Pre-View Of Months To Come

An early 4-inch snowfall hit northern New York State in a surprise pre-view of winter. In Malone, N. Y. these automobiles are liberally covered with a clinging white garment of the stuff skiers pray for. Summer clothing was discarded in a hurry when temperatures dropped to a low of 20 degrees in some parts. The season's first cold wave was accompanied by a killing frost throughout most of the state.

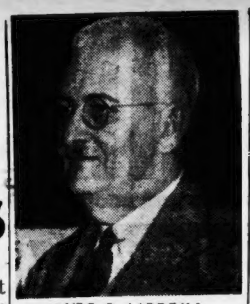
President Postpones Seizures



CLYDE G. MORRILL
Furnace Oil Short, He Says

By HAROLD W. WARD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—President Truman today delayed temporarily the issuance of orders for government seizure of oil properties affected by a 15-State strike of CIO oil workers. Charles G. Ross, press secretary, first announced the orders would be released about noon but shortly after that hour reported they would not be issued "for at least two hours."

There was no explanation of the delay. Ross had said the seizure orders were being drawn up following failure of government attempts to settle the strike of 43,000 workers through arbitration of wage demands. He said the seizure orders would affect the struck oil properties but did not disclose whether entire companies or affected refineries will be taken over.

Neither did he say what federal agency would be authorized to seize the plants involved in a wage dispute between the oil workers and 11 companies.

Officials of the Petroleum Administration for War, the agency which probably will be designated to carry out the refinery seizure, went to the White House this morning.

Meanwhile, Pres. Eric Johnston of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce conferred with Mr. Truman about the labor crisis and emerged with this statement:

"I say to you in my opinion if management and labor sought to slug it out rather than reason it out, they'll be fighting it out for several years. We'll have to use our heads, not lost them."

He said he had told the President he was optimistic over prospects for success at the labor-management conference next month.

"But," he said, "I'd like to stress that we're not going to solve all the problems in the world at that meeting."

Another development on the labor front was President Truman's acceptance of the resignation of J. Holmes Davis as a regular industry member of the National War Labor Board. He has served on the board 21 months.

Davis had told Mr. Truman that now the war is over, he found it necessary to give his full time to his own business affairs.

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R.) of Wisconsin told the Senate that strikes now are acts of sabotage against reconversion.

"A strike against the government is only one step removed from rebellion," Wiley declared. "Similarly, a strike against the people that deprives them of food, transportation and communication is well-nigh treason."

Connecticut Oil Workers Join Strike

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Oct. 4 (AP)—The nationwide oil strike spread to Connecticut today where drivers, yard men and other employes belonging to the International Oil Workers' Union (CIO) were called out, but only in Hartford was the movement reported to have had effect to a noticeable degree.

There it was reported that almost no gasoline or fuel oil was being moved, and distributors said gasoline stations would be out of supplies in a day or two.

FEDERAL HOLIDAY ADDED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—President Truman today ordered the closing of federal offices on Mondays after New Years Day, Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day or Christmas whenever those holidays fall on Sundays.

More than a half million are idle by labor disputes across the country.

OIL—President Truman prepared to order seizure of strike-bound refineries in 15 states where 43,000 are out in wage dispute; wage conference fails as 10 companies spurn government truce plan.

COAL—Soft coal mine shutdowns increased in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky. About 115,000 miners off their jobs in support of their foremen's union bargaining rights.

SHIPPING — A port-wide strike of 60,000 workers, including 46,000 longshoremen, crippled shipping in New York harbor.

AUTOMOBILE—General Motors Corp. rejected 30 per cent hike demand of the CIO United Automobile Workers; union said its negotiations with company representatives would be resumed Saturday.

COMMUNICATIONS — Nation's telephone service threatened with disruption from 2 to 6 P. M. Friday, when 250,000 Independent union operators leave jobs to take strike vote in demonstration of union strength; radio broadcasts and teletype systems also may be affected. Dial systems will not be affected.

Textile Contract OK'd in 2 Cities

A new contract signed by the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, with the Fall River and New Bedford Cotton Manufacturers Assn., will be used as a pattern in negotiations with all other New England textile mills, a union spokesman said today.

George Baldanzi, the union executive president, said the contract guaranteed a minimum wage of 65 cents an hour and a general wage raise of eight cents an hour to workers receiving above that amount.

Strikers to Give Series Service

DETROIT, Oct. 4 (AP)—The scheduled four-hour interruption to telephone service tomorrow will not interfere with broadcasting of the World Series baseball game, according to Mrs. Frances Smith, president of the Michigan Federation of Telephone Workers.

Hub Operators Vote on Strike

Approximately 175 operators and plant workers of the Bell Telephone Company's long distance lines out of Boston voted today at Tremont Temple on whether or not they would support a strike resolution in protest against a NLRB ruling recommending dissolution of a New Jersey affiliate.

The Boston operators voted on their own time with night workers balloting in the afternoon and day workers scheduled to vote at 7:30 p. m.

In contrast, other operators throughout the nation will stage a four-hour holiday from 2 to 6 p. m. tomorrow to vote on the resolution.

Union officials predicted the vote in favor of a strike would be "almost unanimous."

Company officials said emergency service in the event of a strike would be maintained by use of supervisory personnel and New England Telephone Co. officials declared a walkout of long-distance operators would not affect local service in New England.

Oil Strikers Wait Orders From Army

Claiming an almost 100 per cent tieup of the oil industry in Greater Boston, 600 striking employes of five major oil companies here continued their picketing early today, but a union spokesman said they would return to work immediately if advised to do so by the Army.

At the State House, Gen. Charles H. Cole, chairman of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, said phone calls from milk dealers and coal companies regarding obtaining supplies of gasoline were being turned over to the Division on the Necessaries of Life.

Chairman John P. McBride of the division was contacting union officials to make sure such concerns obtained supplies to make deliveries.

William T. Gormley, secretary-treasurer of Local 381, International Oil Workers Union, CIO, called a meeting today of all union representatives to decide union procedure if they receive word that the government has seized the plants.

"We are not returning to work yet so far as I know," he said at the start of the meeting. "However, when we are properly advised by Army authorities, we will go back to work immediately. That does not mean that we will let up on our negotiations.

"However, once things break up it won't be long before all consumers get all the petroleum products they need."

Clyde G. Morrill of the Independent Oil Men's Ass'n predicted that if the strike continued the area's gasoline supplies would be depleted between Oct. 10 and Oct. 15; kerosene and range oil and No. 2 household fuel oil by Nov. 15, and heavy bunker oil supplies would be affected almost immediately.

According to an executive of the Retail Gasoline Dealers Ass'n, stocks in most Boston gas stations will last another 72 hours.

"Many of them are running on reserves, as they had been buying in 10,000 gallon lots, instead of the limited 1000 they received during rationing," he explained.

The general manager of one of the largest oil companies, not involved in the local dispute, also disclosed that even companies free of all labor trouble have stopped delivering gas today. "You can't take a chance on having a load of gas spilled into the streets," he said, "it's too dangerous and too apt to happen if our drivers start arguing with pickets to get through. All our men are willing to work and we are not involved in this controversy but we still won't be able to resume gas deliveries until things have quieted down."

Greater Boston oil plants affected by the strike included depots and refineries of the Cities Service, Sheil, Jenney, American and Quincy companies.

Although pickets in the refinery district and at terminals were able to persuade truck drivers generally to halt deliveries, union representatives agreed at a State House conference to permit deliveries to all essential users, such as public utilities, hospitals, Army and Navy installations and handlers of perishable goods.

The union provided stickers reading, "emergency vehicle," to trucks making essential deliveries.

Would Make Aug. 14 Armistice Day No. 2

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (INS)—A bill sponsored by the American Legion was introduced in Congress today to declare Aug. 14 "Armistice Day of World War II."

MacArthur Tells Japs to Abolish Reign of Terror

TOKYO, Oct. 4 (AP)—Gen. MacArthur decreed a revolutionary Magna Carta for Japan today, ordering the imperial government to remove all bars to freedom of speech, religion and assembly, disband the brutal, still-active "thought police" and release their 3000 political prisoners by Oct. 10.

In a letter to the reorganized Japanese central liasion office, MacArthur told the imperial government bluntly and clearly to abolish all legislation restricting freedom of the people.

The letter also demanded removal from office of Home Minister Iwao Yamazaki and chiefs of the Tokyo and Osaka metropolitan police boards and of the territorial police of Hokkaido.

The orders went out amid a rising clamor by Japanese for release of the prisoners arrested by the "thought police" for voicing ideas that weren't in agreement with the pre-surrender government.

The prisoners have been confined for years in fetid jails from the southwestern tip of Japan to the northernmost home island of Hokkaido, sometimes called "Japan's Siberia."

Tokyo newspapers in the past week have reported the prison death of several of these political prisoners.

MacArthur's five-page letter to the Japanese government said in effect that the people of Japan are to be allowed to say what they think—including expressions about the emperor; worship as they choose, hold meetings as they desire, and not be fearful that the police will throw them into prison.

VFW to Hold '46 Convention Here

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP)—Delegates to the 46th annual encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars today voted to hod their 1946 encampment at Boston.

The Massachusetts state commander, John P. Riley of Boston, presented the official invitation to the time and place committee which placed it before the delegates.

Delegates from Massachusetts had conducted a campaign for their city with placards bearing the legend "Boston in '46."

Quits Army at 77

SANTA ANA, Cal., Oct. 4 (AP)—"A man's not a good soldier unless he takes a few snorts now and then and does a hell of a lot of griping," is the belief of Master Sgt. John Westervelt, 77, who claims to be the Army's oldest member, waiting to be mustered out after 47 years of service.

He is leaving the Army because of a leg injury received in an automobile accident two years ago.

Shipworkers Held As Torch Bandits

Suspected as the torch bandits who pulled two recent safebreaking jobs, four former shipyard workers were nabbed today by the Boston police "antibandit" squad as the drive to smash the outbreak of crime in Greater Boston swung into high gear. In the surprise roundup of suspicious characters, police also grabbed a former longshoreman and an ex-merchant seaman as suspects in the recent series of taxicab holdups.

The safe robbery suspects, all ex-convicts with records for armed robbery, were rounded up in various sections of the city by a special flying squadron of detectives operating under supervision of Supt. Edward Fallon.

The taxicab bandit pair, who police say answer the description of the two men who have terrorized drivers in the South End, South Boston and Dorchester, were arrested in Roxbury, 10 minutes after a robbery victim reported a holdup to police.

In Superior Court, despite a plea by Dist. Atty. Edward Sullivan that "something be done to stop criminals from running wild," Judge Allan G. Buttrick imposed a Concord Reformatory sentence on William Boyd, 20, of Warwick st., Roxbury, convicted of robbery.

In sentencing the youth, Judge Buttrick, who gave a taxicab holdup man 7 to 10 years in State prison yesterday, said:

"I am taking into account the youth of this defendant and also the fact that he is wanted in Federal court on a forgery charge."

Climaxing 48 hours of intensive undercover work, the special flying squadron of Bureau of Criminal Investigation men landed the last of the alleged safecrackers in cells for questioning early today. Each of the four suspects, a 37-year-old Everett man, an ex-convict from Philadelphia, a 36-year-old Worcester man and a 29-year-old North Ender, were locked in separate cells.

Detectives said they had evidence linking the four to the $5000 holdup and safe break in the Pepsi-Cola Co. plant in Western ave., Allston, on Sept. 24, and the robbery at the Lalime & Partridge Co. in Boylston st., Back Bay, on Sept. 19.

The flying police squadron, under orders of Supt. Fallon to

Laval Barred From Court At Own Trial

PARIS, Oct. 4 (AP)—Pierre Laval was expelled from the courtroom today during the first hours of the trial for his life, and the presiding judge, Paul Mongibeaux, anounced that the hearing would continue without the presence of the former chief of the Vichy government.

Pierre Laval

Laval's lawyers had walked out and the judge, jury and prosecutor shouted in unison at Laval's assertion at the tumultuous opening of his trial for treason: "I am a patriot and I will prove it."

Mongibeaux expelled Laval after the defendant, in a heated argument, slammed his brief case on a table and shouted:

"Well, condemn me now. At least the situation will be clear then."

A son of Pierre Cathala, former Vichy minister of agriculture, applauded Laval's statement and was arrested amid cries of "Lynch him!"

The judge at this point suspended the proceedings and mobile guardsmen, armed with Tommyguns, hauled Laval and young Cathala from the courtroom.

The incident causing Laval's ejection began when the defendant, himself a lawyer and one of the most skilled debaters in France, made an emotional appeal, requesting for the second time during the day that the trial be postponed and that his pre-trial examination be reopened.

With his outburst, Mongibeaux shouted:

"Guards, expel that man from the courtroom. This trial will continue without his presence. We will proceed to the witnesses tomorrow in his absence."

Though the white-tied Laval lost his first skirmishes before his expulsion, he fought back hard and bitterly and prepared to act as his own attorney after his lawyers quit.

Scorching words flew back and forth, and so great was the confusion that it took the judge two hours to get the trial started formally with the reading of the lengthy indictment.

"You are, all of you, under government orders," Laval shouted to the High Court of Justice, which only yesterday condemned to death Joseph Darnand, who headed the Gestapo-like Vichy militia.

"Even you, Mr. Prosecutor!" he cried at bearded Andre Mornet, who demanded and got the death penalties for the spy Mata Hari in the first war, and for Marshal Petain a few weeks ago.

Army Car Sale Probe Looms

Cong. Philip J. Philbin of Clinton announced today that he was preparing to ask a congressional investigation into charges of bungling and discrimination in the Ft. Devens sale of surplus Army trucks to veterans.

The sale resumed today at Devens amid mounting protests by veterans, spearheaded by the charge of James F. Reynolds, senior vice-commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, that discharged soldiers were being permitted to buy mostly "junk," while vehicles in better condition were saved for large lot sales to dealers.

Reynolds said the VFW convention in Chicago would act in the matter today, and added that strong protests had been sent to the entire Massachusetts Congressional delegation by the VFW here.

Philbin said he had ordered the New England office of the Office of Surplus Property to make a complete report to Washington on the Devens sale.

The 10-day sale of surplus trucks and beach wagons was supposed to start at Devens at 9 a. m. Tuesday, under the auspices of the Smaller War Plants Corp., but owing to lack of an official price list it was held up for hours.

According to George M. Doyle of 1489 Center st., Roslindale, 650 numbers were given out to prospective buyers among the veterans, despite the fact that due to the setup only 100 purchases a day could be handled.

"In the first place," said Doyle, "although the Smaller War Plants Corp. notified prospective buyers it advised them to take competent mechanics with them, no veterans was permitted to bring anyone inside. We were stopped at the gate, and only veterans got in.

"In the second place, when we did get in we found that most of the stuff they were trying to sell us was junk, with the good stuff in other pools across the street to which we were not admitted.

"There weren't 50 pieces of equipment that were in fair shape, and the prices asked were from 33 1-3 to 50 per cent higher than were charged dealers. Not only that, but although only veterans were admitted to this particular pool, a truck bearing the name of a Greater Boston concern was coming in and taking cars out right under our noses."

Ferriss Hero At Malden Fire

Dave Ferriss, Boston Red Sox pitching star, handled a fire today with the same aplomb with which he faced enemy batters during the just-finished American League season.

Ferriss was ordering seat covers for the new car presented him by Boston fans last month when fire started in the basement of a two-story building in Commercial st., Malden, housing the Malden Auto Top Co. and the Harvard Toy Works.

The young pitcher assisted in maintaining order as 38 employes of the two concerns were escorted from the building.

The blaze was said to have been caused by a static spark in toy-making machinery in the basement and resulted in $2000 damage.

Only missing figure was Mike Ryba, famed Red Sox "fireman."

Hub Cold Hits Near Record--Warmer Friday

The first snow of the season in northern sections and sub-freezing in most of New England today gave the area a foretaste of winter.

Three inches of snow was reported in Pinkham Notch and mountain sections of Vermont. The coldest spot in New England was Mt. Washington with a reading of 9 above.

In Boston the mercury slid down to 35, one degree from the all-time low for this date, established in 1888. Greater Boston temperatures included Woburn and Lexington, 26; Arlington, 32; Concord, 25.

The cold spell is expected to pass off gradually today and the mercury will not drop below the middle 40's tonight. Friday will be fair and warmer with the temperature nearing 70, the weatherman said.

N. Y. State Gets Killing Frost With Low of 20

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 4 (AP)—The season's first cold wave, accompanied by killing frost, spread through most of New York State. Official readings overnight registered from a low of 20 at Bloomingdale in Franklin County to a low of 38.3 at New York city.

New York city's mark approximated the all-time low set in 1888 when it was 38.1.

Atom Control Plan Favored

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—President Truman's plans for ironclad domestic control of atomic energy appeared bound today for early congressional approval. Democratic Leader Barkley listed it as "very high priority" legislation in the Senate.

But legislators made it plain at the same time that they want a hand in deciding how much to tell the rest of the world about the atomic bomb.

None disputed Mr. Truman's premise that the American people must "use the knowledge we have won, not for the devastation of war, but for the future welfare of humanity."

Some doubt was voiced, however, that his hope of outlawing the bomb as a weapon of war could be attained.

Mr. Truman separated the country's biggest enigma into home and abroad classifications in a message to Congress yesterday.

He called first for creation of a presidentially-appointed commission to:

1—Control all mineral sources of atomic energy, plants and stockpiles.

2—Conduct all necessary research, experiments and operations on further development for military, industrial, scientific or medical purposes.

3—Issue licenses for private operations based "upon a policy of widespread distribution of peacetime products on equitable terms which will prevent monopoly."

4—Permit production, import and export of energy producing substances only under conditions it prescribes.

5—Set up rules of censorship for information about material and equipment under its jurisdiction.

Mr. Truman stressed that immediate action is necessary to preserve the nation's huge investment in brains and plants—the army of scientists assembled to work out the bomb, and the plants in Washington and Tennessee where it was produced.

All of this sounded pretty reasonable to most congressmen.

VFW Urges U. S. Keep Atomic Bomb Secret

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP)—Compulsory peacetime military training was recommended today by delegates to the Veterans of Foreign Wars 46th encampment.

In another resolution the VFW recommended that the formula, process and equipment used in development of the atomic bomb "be retained exclusively by the government of the United States."

No A-Bomb Defense Found

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 4 (AP)—Niels Bohr, Danish scientist closely associated with atomic bomb research, told an assembly of technicians here that he believed no defense against the bomb was possible, and thus "talk of military bases is nonsense."

Addressing the Engineers' Society of Copenhagen, he estimated the United States can produce about three kilograms (approximately seven pounds) daily of uranium. A form of the element, known as Uranium-235, releases the vast atomic energy.

Bohr said that the amount of uranium produced by the United States gave an idea of the extensive and fantastic factories necessary.

Hobbles to Court, Denies Break

WORCESTER, Oct. 4—On crutches with a broken foot and with only $4 in his possession, Howard D. Steffy, 22, of Sumner st., pleaded not guilty in district court today to charges of conspiracy, breaking and entering and larceny in the theft of $175 from the safe of a Winter st. cafe.

His alleged accomplice, Edward D. Flynn, 47, of Front st., pleaded not guilty to the same charges as well as to being accessory before and after the fact. He was held in $2500 while bail of $1500 was set for Steffy.

Police charged Flynn, a former bartender at the cafe, smuggled Steffy into the cellar two nights ago, gave him the safe combination, then split $175 in loot.

Officers said Steffy fell while climbing thruogh a transom to get out, breaking his foot. They declared the $4 he had left represented his share of the loot after he journeyed to Hartford, Ct., had the foot set and purchased a pair of crutches.

6 Ships Bring 9706 Vets, 552 From N. E.

Six troopships of a total of nine originally scheduled to arrive at the Port of Boston today were docking at Commonwealth Pier and the Army Base with a total of 9706 European war veterans, 552 from New England.

Three vessels, whose arrivals were postponed, were delayed in the bay by head winds, while three of those docking today had been prevented from reaching port yesterday for the same reason.

First of the transports to arrive today was the S. S. Westbrook Victory, which debarked 121 New Englanders among 1968 veterans at Commonwealth Pier.

Along with the S. S. King S. Woolsey and the S. S. Joaquin Miller, which arrived at the Army Base with a total of 1493 veterans, 103 from New England, it had been scheduled to reach port yesterday.

Most of those aboard the Westbrook Victory were personnel on emergency furlough or Medical Corps casuals.

The Woolsey and the Miller landed miscellaneous personnel, all with high point scores coming home for discharge.

Other arrivals at the Army Base were the S. S. Donald Holland, which debarked two New Englanders among 20 veterans, and the S. S. Julia Shaw, which had none from this area among 17 aboard.

Due to arrive later in the day was the largest of the six vessels, the S. S. Mariposa, which was nearing Commonwealth Pier with a total of 5148 returning veterans, including 326 from New England.

The vessels whose arrival today has been delayed are the S. S. Alice Fortier, the S. S. John Walker and the S. S. John Howland.

(For news of scheduled arrivals at other ports see "The Boys Come Home," on Page 15.)

Governor Asks Tax Allocation

Stressing the need for reconversion of taxes as well as war plants, Gov. Maurice J. Tobin, in addressing the Kiwanis Club meeting at the Touraine at noon today, declared:

"America must have a modernized tax structure as a foundation for a full employment program. An equitable system of tax-allocation must be made among local, state and federal agencies to encourage new enterprises and the expansion of older businesses. Industry in Massachusetts can reconvert quicker than elsewhere because most of our plants produced for war purposes much the same kind of materials they produce in peace times. Our textile plants kept on making textiles, our optical plants precision instruments, and electrical manufacturers produced much the same equipment.

"One of our greater Boston factories, which has handled 85 million dollars' worth of war orders since 1942, reconverted to civilian goods within a week.

"Policies and programs don't produce jobs unless employers put those policies and programs into practice."

LOUIS ADAMS DIES

Louis Adams, 65, of Warrenton st., South End, former member of the editorial staff of the Boston Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, died today in City Hospital.

Saved by Court

LYNN, Oct. 4 (AP)—The defendant said he was guilty but the law said he wasn't.

Brought before Judge Ralph W. Reeve today on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident without making himself known after causing damage to another automobile, Peter Cutrone, 29, of Somerville, pleaded guilty.

Judge Reeve asked a few questions and established that the alleged damage was done on a private way, not covered by the statutes. The court promptly entered a finding of innocent.

Big 3 Chiefs To Patch Break By Telephone

LONDON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Diplomats said today they expected President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee to start telephone conversations soon in an effort to break the deadlock of the peace-making Council of Foreign Ministers.

Foreign Secretary Bevin met with the British cabinet behind guarded doors for two and a half hours, giving details of circumstances leading to the breakdown. He talked privately with Attlee later.

Bevin had been reported in frequent bitter personal exchanges with Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov during the three-week session. Bevin is expected to report fully to Parliament next week.

Diplomats expressed the view that the heads of the Big Three states would start transatlantic talks soon after Secretary of State Byrnes and Molotov have opportunities to talk with their superiors.

A policy-mapping conference by the United States, Russia and Britain preliminary to a general peace-planning meeting of the powers which helped defeat the Axis, was proposed today by Australia's minister of external affairs.

Declaring that the failure of the Foreign Ministers Council to reach an agreement on basic principles of the European peace provided an "opportunity for a fresh start in peacemaking," H. V. Evatt suggested the following procedure:

1—A discussion by the three big powers on questions of major principle and policy.

2—A meeting of all states which contributed militarily to the defeat of the enemy for drafting final peace terms.

9 Flee $20,000 Fire in Danvers

Warned by a 70-year-old woman neighbor, two women and seven children escaped in their night clothes from a general alarm $20,000 fire which destroyed a three-story brick dwelling and barn at Sylvan and Pine sts. in Danvers, early today.

Saved from death by fire were Mrs. Harold Kelley, 37, and her seven children, Bernard, 2½; Richard, 4; George, 7; John, 9; Eleanor, 11; Robert 13, and William, 15, and her mother, Mrs. Sarah Robinson, 62.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Bridget McDermott, 70, of Pine st., who sent her daughter, Mary, and son, Thomas, to get the Kelleys out while she telephoned the fire department.

Court Deplores 'Loaded' Trophy

Asserting that people were "going to be killed by souvenir weapone," Judge Frank W. Tomasello expressed the wish in municipal court today that Army authorities would stop allowing servicemen to bring such guns back to this country.

Judge Tomasello was hearing evidence in the case of Alex Frazer, 27, of Wachusett st., Framingham, arrested on a charge of breaking glass and carrying a loaded German pistol after he had fallen against a South End store window while celebrating his Army discharge.

"I wish the Army would stop that practice," the judge said.

"But it was only a souvenir, your honor," Frazer said.

"If you want to bring back souvenirs, you should bring back some religious article or something indicative of peace—not a loaded gun," replied the judge.

He fined him $25 for carrying the loaded gun and placed him on probation on the glas-breaking charge.

16 Meat Markets Closed In Ration Point Swindle

Sixteen meat markets in Greater Boston, Everett and Methuen were suspended by the OPA today for from two weeks to four months in connection with the 4,000,000 red point counterfeit fraud last winter, James J. Brennan, chief of the Massachusetts OPA, announced.

The suspended markets handled more than 1,000,000 counterfeit red points, Brennan charged.

Thirty markets have now been suspended, Brennan announced, and 65 more cases are under consideration.

The 16 dealers suspended today are:

Phillip Shapiro, Shapiro Beef Co., 12 Abattoir ave., Brighton, for four months.

Sidney Lampert, Eastern Beef Co., 62 Blackstone st., Boston, for three months.

Charles Alpert, A. & B. Beef Co., 78 North st., Boston, for two months and placed on probation for four months.

Harry Brockman, Brock's Market, 1417 Tremont st., Boston, for two months and placed on probation for four months.

Delay Action On Tremont St. One-Way Traffic

After listening to almost unanimous opposition to a proposal for one-way southbound traffic in Tremont st. from Scollay sq. to Broadway, the Boston Traffic Commission decided today to await the return of Public Works Comr. Robert Curley before taking action.

Comr. Curley is in Atlanta, Ga., investigating a municipal incineration plant there.

Leading opposition to the proposal, Daniel Bloomfield, secretary of the Retail Trade Board, declared the change in traffic flow would create the worst jam in the city.

He asserted 100 leading merchants, including some of the highest taxpayers, would be affected seriously.

Bloomfield admitted drastic structural changes and legislation for off-street parking were needed, but said the present proposal would only intensify the problem.

Others who spoke in opposition included Glenwood J. Sherrard, representing the City of Boston Hotel Ass'n, and School Committeeman Clement A. Norton.

Only speaker in favor of the proposal was Edward Egbert of Snowcrest Beverages Co., Salem, who suggested the system be given a 24-hour trial, after which individual traffic officers would report their ideas on its success or failure.

Waitt Heiress, Kin Freed in Bludgeon-Death

PLYMOUTH, Oct. 4—Action of the grand jury in superior court today freed two sisters and a brother from manslaughter charges in connection with the death of a former friend.

Virginia F. Waitt, 20, cigar fortune heiress, and Arthur G. Shaw, 17, held in bail of $20,000 each since the bludgeoning death of 47-year-old Richard J. Barnett, were released imediately after the grand jury reported "no bill" on their case.

Their mother, Mrs. Miriam Waitt Shaw, who was previously married to Henry F. Waitt, heir to a $300,000 estate, was cleared of similar manslaughter charges in district court on Aug. 29 after Verna testified that Barnett had come into the yard of their home in Carver on July 21, leveled a shotgun at her mother and cried: "You're going to get it now."

Verna, testifying of the tragedy, said that she, Virginia and Arthur started grappling with Barnett, wrested the gun from him, and that while Arthur fought with him on the ground she grabbed the gun from Virginia and rained blows on his head and back with the stock end.

She testified her mother had taken no part in the scuffle and that she had not meant to kill Barnett but only to save her mother and brother from being killed.

All four were arrested by State Police after Barnett, a war veteran who had lived in the Shaw home until he entered the service, was reported to have died from "asphyxia due to swallowing blood" after having received at least 11 blows.

Globester Winging On Last Lap Home

By INEZ ROBB

Boston Evening American and International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD THE GLOBESTER, En Route to Washington, Oct. 4—Less than six days ago we soared away from Washington, on a record-making round-the-world flight, and early today we are winging back to the nation's capital.

The Army Air Force's luxury passenger plane started her last lap from Hamilton Field, just north of San Francisco, at 5:36 a.m., PST, today.

Our stopover at Hamilton Field after a swift flight in from Hawaii was only long enough to have magnificent steaks furnished by Maj. Jack Melady, public relations officer at Hamilton Field, and his ATC reception crew, who greeted us with open arms this morning.

We commented that we didn't usually eat steaks, particularly of the size he served, for breakfast. Whereupon he topped off the early morning meal with pie a la mode.

Thus, well fed, we soared out past the Golden Gate, which we did not see either coming or going because of the darkness.

But our navigator told us it was still there, and since all ATC navigators have been on the beam all around the world, we certainly won't question him.

It's a small world after all, and you can quote me as saying so.

When you can fly from Washington to San Francisco via a round-the-world detour in less than six days, the world is shrinking like a pair of red flannels in a spring rain.

The record-making round-the-world Globester arrived at San Francisco at 2:10 this morning, preparatory to her final non-stop flight to Washington.

She landed 20 minutes ahead of schedule.

Allston Sailor Free; 3 Years Jap PW

Mrs. Maude E. Manning of Lincoln st., Allston, was notified by the Navy today that her son, S 1c William H. Manning, Jr., 24, has been liberated from a Japanese war prison camp. Seaman Manning, who enlisted in the Navy in 1940, has not seen his mother in five years.

Manning was captured after the fall of Wake island, where he was serving at the Naval Air Station. His family heard no word about him from 1942, when the Navy reported him a prisoner, until last year, when they received a card from him stating he was in a prison camp in Shanghai. The liberated prisoner is a nephew of former Mayor J. Fred Manning of Lynn.

Unable to Become Mother, War Widow Kidnaps Baby

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4 (INS)—Mrs. Virginia (Mickey) Flores, 18-year-old war widow in jail for kidnaping, today blamed her inability to have children for stealing a 5-year-old girl from a school ground three weeks ago.

She claimed she and four other girls were sterilized in an Oklahoma reform school for escaping from the institution.

She was sent to the reformatory as a wayward child at the age of 13, she said, by a stepmother who was jealous of her because "she had kids of her own."

She said an overpowering desire for motherhood developed after her marriage in July, 1943, to Joe Flores, soldier who was killed on Okinawa three months ago.

"I never tol dhim I couldn't have any babies," she said. "How could I tell him that? I wanted babies of my own, but I knew that I could never give him one.

"It got to working inside of me, deep inside of me. It seemed more and more I wanted one."

Gallarelli Admits Firing Shot, Denies Intent to Kill

Samuel J. Gallarelli, 24, of Windsor rd., Medford, charged with the murder of John E. MacKenzie, 39-year-old ex-convict, today took the stand in his Middlesex Superior Court trial and denied he intended to shoot his friend.

"I fired to the left of MacKenzie and did not intend to hit him," Gallarelli told Judge Abraham Pinanski and jury in describing the struggle which ended in the fatal shooting of MacKenzie in the Gallarelli home on Jan. 17.

Asked by Dist. Atty. George E. Thompson who fired the three other shots which hit MacKenzie, Gallarelli replied:

"Only God knows, because there were at least five hands on the gun at one time in the struggle."

His testimony about the death struggle with MacKenzie corroborated the evidence given earlier by his wife, Provie, who said the fight started after MacKenzie struck her and called her vile names.

He said MacKenzie had been drinking and "was pretty far gone."

MacKenzie demanded that Mrs. Gallarelli have a drink with him as they sat around the kitchen table, he struck her during an argument, Gallarelli said, adding.

"He knocked me across the room and I landed on the floor. I saw him reaching into his belt for a gun and he said, 'I'll take care of you.'"

Gallarelli said his wife grappled with MacKenzie and the gun slid across the floor to him.

"I picked it up and stood up," the defendant said. "Then I told him 'stand back or I'll shoot,' but he kept coming toward me.'

He said he could not recall pulling the trigger after the first shot.

U. S. Rules Nazis Out of Business

BERLIN, Oct. 4 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower's military government speeded today the drafting of a drastic new law which would wipe out all Nazi ownership and Nazi control of German business in the U. S. occupation zone.

In effect, the decree would make it "unlawful for any person who was at any time a member of the Nazi party or its affiliate organizations to own, control, manage or supervise any business enterprise or possess an interest therein."

Rival Wives Good Pals as Each Gets Annulment

HARTFORD, Ct., Oct. 4 (AP)—Two young women left Superior Court today, laughing and talking together, after each had obtained an annulment of her marriage to Joseph Leo Antoine Dupont, who is serving six months in jail for bigamy.

Dorothy Kitchen and Lena Mingo, both of Hartford, became friends while visiting him at the jail. The former married him in Washington, D. C., Nov. 16, 1942, and the latter at Rocky Hill April 11, 1944.

Each has a son named Joseph Leo Antoine Dupont, Jr., and Judge P. B. O'Sullivan, who granted the annulments today, gave each mother the right to the Dupont name, custody of her son and $1 a month for the child's support.

Dupont was convicted of bigamy because of his marriage to Anita Ladd at Lewiston, Me., May 25, 1940. She divorced him in June, 1944.

'The Voice' Irked, Bans Squeals of Bobby Soxers

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 4 (AP)—They aren't squealing for Frankie any more.

Frank Sinatra

As many an ear-tortured radio listener knows, broadcasts by Frank Sinatra have been punctuated by the shrill screeches of his teen-age audience, as their mode of appreciation for his vocal dides. But no more. The Jersey Caruso explained:

"I decided it would have to stop. I thought there must be millions of people listening in—I hope there are millions, anyway—who are irritated by all that yelling and screaming. So it had to go.

"I've tried everything—talking to them, reasoning with them—but still they squealed. So this year I decided to try a radio show without applause. I figured the excitement of the applause was what made them yell."

And it seems to work. Before the radio show, Frank merely asks the girls not to applaud until the end of the program. After each song he holds up a forbidding hand to prevent any palm-pounding. Except for a few "Ohs" and "Ahs," the girls remain reasonably quiet until the end of the show. Then they let loose with a roar that nearly knocks The Voice off the stage, which seemingly would not be difficult to do.

Frank said the squealing routine has been going on since the days when he was singing with Tommy Dorsey's band.

"It seems as though I've been hearing that noise for years and years," he said wearily. "At first it was a novelty, and I guess it was a good thing because it caused a lot of comment. But then it got to be a menace.

"Why, I've heard them walking into a theater in groups of six, saying 'Come on, let's see who can yell the loudest.' Man, that was too much."

6-Man Mayor Race Picks Up Excitement

Increasing activity marked Boston's six-man mayoralty race today, with all candidates scheduling rallies, conferences or radio addresses. Former Fire Commr. William Arthur Reilly, Councilor John J. Sawtelle and Cong. James M. Curley carried their campaign messages to voters in radio broadcasts. Mayor Kerrigan and Rep. Michael Paul Feeney conducted a series of rallies in Dorchester, and Joseph Lee announced he would open his radio campaign tonight.

Establishment of a city college offering Boston residents free education in the arts and sciences and advanced business administration was pledged by Rep. Michael Paul Feeney of Hyde Park in rally addresses in Dorchester.

Reilly recmomended a double-barreled taxation program, calling for discontinuance of "the policy of juggling valuations to establish the tax rate," and proposing legislation to permit assessed values to remain in effect for three years instead of one as a means of stabilizing assessments.

Curley said he would inaugurate a plan to tear down 43,000 substandard dwellings housing more than 150,000 and replace them with "homes that will give a new distinction and a new attraction to the city."

Kerrigan told Dorchester audiences that every highway in and out of Boston had been made safe in the past few months, despite previous dangerous conditions.

Sawtelle promised to announce a program tonight to "cure the ills and handicaps which have relegated Boston to that classification of cities described as second-class municipalities and backward cities."

Lee announced a three-point platform pledging "recreation programs three times expanded at your door," "correct assessments of property," and "jobs in peace as well as in war."

On Right Scent--'Twasn't Garlic!

Garlic is offensive to some people, but to Sgt. Mark Madden of the headquarters racket squad, lottery slips smell just as bad.

The sergeant told Judge Frank W. Tomasello in municipal court that he spotted Angelo E. Piso of Salem st., North End, carrying a grocery bag along North st. last Saturday. He trailed Piso into an apartment.

"Where's the business?" Madden testified he asked, adding that Piso pointed to a bag on the kitchen table.

The bag was filled with garlic and peppers, The sergeant sniffed. His nostrils, trained to track the illegal, garlic or red herrings or peppers notwithstanding, led him to the window sill of an elevator shaft. There, he told the court, he found another grocery bag. This one, he said, was filled with policy slips.

Piso, who claimed the slips weren't his, was found guilty of possessing them. Fined $100 and sentenced to three months, he appealed.

School Bandit

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP)—A gunman invaded the kindergarten and second grade classrooms at the Douglas Public School yesterday, terrified the young pupils and escaped with the teachers' purses.

Miss Ethel Grosse, one of the teachers, believing the bandit was one of the school's older students, told him to put down her purse. He drew a gun and backed out of the room.

Hub May Get New U. S. Office Building

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Providing Congress approves legislation authorizing $193,000,000 for new government buildings, there are 162 in the program in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont and Rhode Island.

From the list, according to the terms of the legislation proposed by the Public Buildings Administration, it will select "those projects for construction which are most essential to efficient operation of the federal establishment."

All 4020 projects would cost an estimated $774,795,000, roughly four times the amount asked by the legislation, and thus only one-fourth of the eligible projects can be constructed.

Biggest of the 98 Massachusetts projects was $12,800,000 for a Boston Federal Office Building and post office annex.

The second was $2,400,000 for additional land and added facilities at the Marine Hospital in Boston.

In the Boston postoffice district, cost of land and buildings for new branch postoffices was: Belmont, $175,000; Braintree, $120,000; Charlestown $155,000; Dorchester, $203,000; Grove Hall, $195,000; Hyde Park, $140,000; Melrose, $280,000; Needham, $120,000; Newtonville, $290,000; Roslindale, $171,000; Watertown, $240,000; Wellesley, $165,000.

The Massachusetts list, all for postoffices sites and buildings at $85,000 each, except as otherwise noted, included:

Agawam, Auburn, Avon, Barre, Bedford, Billerica, Blackstone, Bridgewater ($95,000) Brookfield, Buzzards Bay, Chatham ($90,000) Chelmsford, Cohasset ($90,000); Dalton ($95,000); Deerfield, East Bridgewater, East Douglas, East Northfield, East Pepperell, Edgartown ($95,000).

Groton, Hanson, Harwichport, Hingham ($140,000), Holbrook Holden, Holliston, Hopedale, Hopkinton, Hudson (building $95,000) Indian Orchard ($105,000), Lawrence-Methuen branch ($110,000), North Andover branch ($95,000).

Lee, Lenox, Ludlow, ($95,000), Lynn-Swampscott Branch ($145,000), West Lynn Branch ($145,000), Marblehead, Marion, Maynard ($95,000), Medfield, Medway, Millers Falls, Millis, Monson, Nantasket Beach, North Abington ($105,000), Northboro, Northbridge, North Brookfield, North Dighton, North Easton, Norton, Oak Bluffs, Onset, Orleans, Osterville, Oxford.

Randolph ($95,000), Scituate, Sharon, Shelburne Falls, Shirley, Shrewsbury, South Deerfield, South Hamilton, South Lancaster, South Sudbury, Spencer ($110,000), Stockbridge, Three Rivers, Uxbridge ($95,000), Vineyard Haven ($110,000), Vineyard Haven-Marine Hospital additional land and added facilities ($350,000), Warren, Westboro ($95,000), West Concord, West Hanover, West Warren ($83,000), Westwood, Wilmington, Wrentham ($85,000).

The Rhode Island list includes 11 postoffice sites and buildings at a total cost of $1,164,000.

The New Hampshire list shows 26 projects totalling $2,385,000.

The Vermont list of 17 projects would cost $3,060,000.

British Police Scour Heart of Jerusalem

Hub Woman Sends Gifts to 4 Soldiers

A Boston woman, who has enrolled for the past three years in the Christmas Gifts for Buddies Overseas Campaign, wants to remember one more lonely serviceman this year.

"I haven't forgotten the other three boys whose names I obtained from you in the last three years," she wrote. "I am sending them each a gift and we correspond regularly. One of them is in Europe and the other two in the Pacific.

"But I'd like to enroll again in your worthy campaign. You are doing a great job in keeping the boys' morale high and making them happy."

The Christmas Gifts for Buddies Overseas campaign is sponsored by the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, and there is still time to enlist.

But the time is getting short. The deadline for mailing all packages overseas, to all servicemen and women, is Oct. 15. So if you wish to bring Christmas happiness to some lonely soldier or sailor, Coast Guardsman or Marine, who will be far from home on that day, enlist now in this campaign and prepare and mail your gift package as soon as possible.

Fill out and mail the coupon accompanying this article and by return mail you will receive a label bearing the name of an overseas chaplain who will distribute your gift package directly to a serviceman or woman in his outfit.

Meat Supplies Show Increase

A marked increase in meat supplies in September, with beef available in more stores than at any time during the past year, was reported today by Wendell P. MacDonald, regional director of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor.

While more beef was available, veal and lamb continued scarce. Macdonald reported veal was found in 20 per cent of the retail stores while pork was unobtainable in eight of 10 stores.

HITS WAR TRIALS DELAY

LONDON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Dr. Radomir Zivkovic, Yugoslav member of the War Crimes Commission, declared today that from 6000 to 7000 Germans and Italians had been listed as war criminals by the commission, and protested against delays in bringing them to trial.

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Jews Found Living Better Than Germans

By NOLAND NORGAARD

FRANKFORT, Germany, Oct. 4 (AP)—A U. S. Army inspection group, studying the treatment being accorded displaced Jews in Germany, inspected the Zeilsheim Jewish displaced persons camp yesterday and declared that:

The daily food ration averages 2300 clories compared to 1280 for German civilians in Frankfurt, supplemented by two Red Cross parcels each month.

Each Jew has an average of 50 square feet of floor space in his living quarters. More commodious facilities will be available shortly.

Forty Jewish girls are making winter clothing and stoves are available to heat all buildings. Bedding is more than adequate for winter, overcoats and other spare clothing are available.

The visit to Zeilsheim was made four days after President Truman publicized a report by Earl G. Harrison, American representative on the intergovernmental refugee committee, which charged Jews in displaced persons camps were being "treated as the Nazis treated them except that we do not exterminate them."

Girl Saw Kramer Kill 300 at Belsen

LUENEBURG, Germany, Oct. 4 (AP)—Josef Kramer, Nazi commandant of the Oswiecim and Belsen concentration camps, was accused by a 21-year-old Jewess today of machine-gunning about 300 captives before a flaming ditch after killing some with dogs.

Kramer and 44 other officials and guards are on trial for their lives before a British military court. He previously has been accused of sending others to death in gas chambers, beating the life from others and of instigating other means of execution and torture.

Regina Rosenthal, 21-year-old Pole, said in an affidavit:

"While at Oswiecim, I saw about 300 people around a ditch in which a big fire was burning. Commandant Kramer was behind them with a machinegun and some dogs. When he pointed to a man, the dogs would attack and he either was killed or fell into the fire. Kramer then machine-gunned the others."

Two other former prisoners described the death at Belsen of Keith Mayer of the British navy.

Rold Klink, an Austrian, said Mayer, taken to the hospital compound critically ill with typhus, was shot and that he believed the order to kill Mayer came from the political department of the camp.

"The general policy was laid down in Berlin," he said, "but the political department had authority over individual prisoners."

Kunming Riots End; 3 Wounded

CHUNGKING, Oct. 4 (AP)—Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand, commander of U. S. services of supply units, today announced complete cessation of fighting at Kunming between the Chinese central government troops and forces of deposed Yunan Governor Lung Yun.

The situation is rapidly returning to normal after at least three Americans were reported wounded by the gunfire.

CEILINGS ON VACUUMS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Vacuum cleaners made by new manufacturers will have retail price ceilings in line with those for established makes OPA announced today.

Army Releases Beat Schedule

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (INS)—A War Department representative informed Congress today that Army discharges are running far ahead of schedule, with 900,000 slated to be demobilized this month.

Brig. Gen. Robert Berry, of the War Department's personnel office, also advised the House Military affairs committee that 640,000 men would arrive in the United States this month from overseas, 440,000 from the European theater and 200,000 from the Pacific.

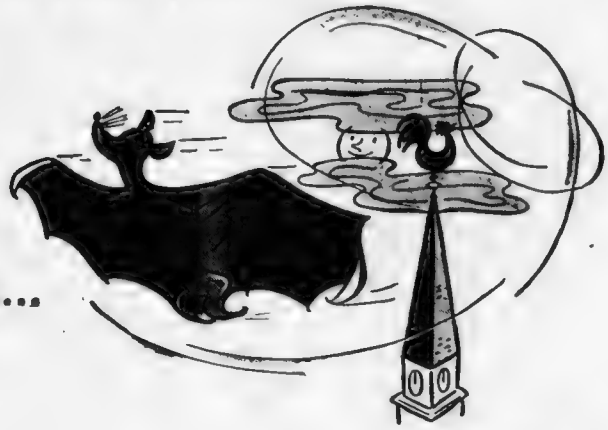
Some words fool you:

BAT means...



BAT means...

but BALLANTINE Ale always means...

Purity, Body, Flavor!

There's the bat that flies around at night. There's the bat that starts the home-run king flying around the bases. Bat's one of those confusing words with more than one meaning. And there are a lot of them—which makes a crystal-clear word like Ballantine all the more appreciated.

Ballantine means PURITY, BODY, FLAVOR. Always has. Always will. These are the qualities brewed into Ballantine by the founder over a century ago ::: the qualities symbolized by the famous 3-ring trade mark. Wind up your day the pleasant way ::: look for the 3 rings ::: call for "Ballantine."

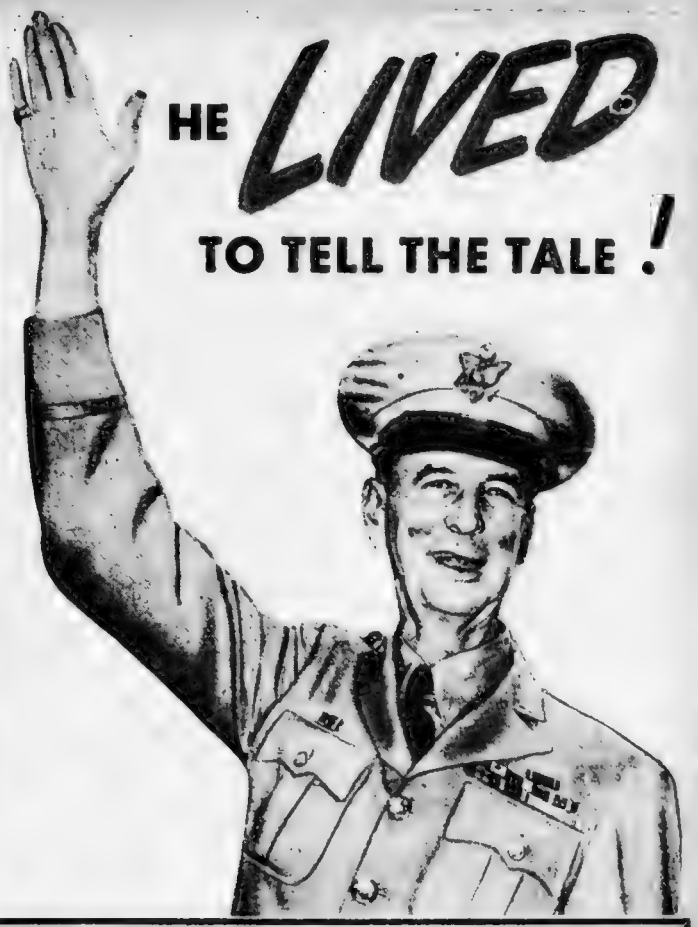
HE LIVED TO TELL THE TALE!



HOW the pages of history might have been changed if Custer had lived to tell of Little Big Horn—or if Davy Crockett had emerged alive from the hell and dust of the Alamo!

Now comes the story of one of the war's bitterest battles—direct from the valiant leader who inspired his men to hold out long after the cause was hopeless. Now comes the story of Bataan and Corregidor, told by the soldier back from hell—General Jonathan Wainwright.

Live again the smoke and fire and blackness of one of the great stands in American military history—General Wainwright's THIS IS MY STORY.

KEEP PLEDGES TO VETERANS

ALL DAY Tuesday three thousand war veterans, many of them accompanied by wives, stood in the drenching rain at Ft. Devens, vainly trying to get the Army trucks which their supposedly grateful Government had said they could buy.

We hoped that this was an isolated instance of bungling and blundering.

We trusted that officials elsewhere were more considerate of the lads who fought and won the battles of Europe and Asia.

But, apparently, we were too optimistic.

Today, no less an authority than the American Legion voices this complaint:

"Our headquarters in Washington are flooded with protests from veterans all over the United States who have been blocked in their efforts to buy Government surplus goods.

"Veterans' Preference provisions of the Surplus Property Act are being violated and ignored, and the entire program is a [redacted].

"If a veteran wishes to buy anything he has to do it through the Smaller War Plants Corporation, and this restriction enables both the SWPC and the original disposal agency to pass the buck back and forth while the veteran receives nothing.

"It is another case of Federal bureaus giving lip-service to the veterans, and little or nothing else."

THIS IS a too important matter for Senators and Representatives to ignore.

Drastic conditions call for drastic measures, and it may be advisable and necessary, therefore, to get rid of the bureaucrats, including the haughty and supercilious "brass hats" who fought the war at cocktail bars and in hotel lounges, and give their soft jobs to REAL service men who can be relied upon to accord their buddies a square deal.

Furthermore, as we observed yesterday, it would not be too much for the Government to make a present of its surplus "jeeps" and trucks to the former soldiers and sailors who have taken advantage of the loan guarantees in the GI Bill of Rights and are buying small farms and establishing businesses.

Certainly this would be more worthy of the United States than a policy of letting this equipment fall into the hands of speculators for sale later on at inflated prices.

ANOTHER deplorable example of veterans' neglect is apparent in many of the nation's colleges and universities.

All should be filled to capacity with honorably discharged servicemen enjoying the free education and training which Congress and the people promised.

Yet, in some of these exalted institutions of learning, ex-soldiers and sailors are as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth.

A few days ago Harvard reported that it was beginning its 308th year with an enrollment LESS THAN 45 PER CENT of its peacetime normal.

And all over the country similar conditions prevail.

Why cannot the heads of these schools, which owe their existence to the philanthropy of persons who wanted to assist deserving young Americans and to the generosity of the people who granted them liberal tax exemptions and other favors, come out of their plushy cubby-holes and say, not once but a million times:

"GI Joe, we want you. We owe our lives to you. We have the facilities to equip you for your rightful place in the country you saved. We will supplement the government's education contributions with scholarships. Come to see us today. Let us prove that we are grateful."

That is the least the college and university presidents should do, but how many of them are doing it?

Let us have VETERANS' ENROLLMENT DAYS in every school in the land.

Let it not be said ten years from now that any American college or university scorned the veterans of this war or otherwise discouraged their becoming students.

ABOVE IS one of the few poems written in praise of a husband. The gentleman honored must have really been a Grade A matrimonial mate. We trust that many of our subscribers can give their husbands the same rating. The fifth and sixth lines bar me. When my charming wife calls to get me up in the morning I do not always reply with "kindly words of cheer"... Real football weather today. Very snappy. Recalls the days when I was a gridiron galley slave. That is, a lineman. The linemen are the most important players on a football team, but the glamor boys in the backfield get all the credit. When I first started to play football the tackles and guards were given many chances to run with the ball. Needless to say, they did very well; especially in the tackle around tackle play. But as time went on, the chances for a lineman to get a little glory as a ball carrier were reduced. All he usually got was blood and sweat, and the backfield men monopolized the glory. However, now and then the linemen had a little fun. What I enjoyed most was going down under a kick and trying to beat the ends to the tackle.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Who was the first of the "sultry voiced" sirens of stage or screen?

Francine Larrimore

A—It all depends on what type of voice can rightly be styled "sultry" and what kind of actress really rates being called a siren. When some of these throaty-voiced cinema cuties are classed as "sultry-voiced sirens" that is just a press agent's description. Pauline Frederick was quite a sultry-voiced siren in her heyday, especially when she played Potiphar's wife in "Joseph and His Brethren." Francine Larrimore, at the time she played in "Scandal," had a touch of the sultry in her voice and she was a siren in a small way. Ethel Barrymore, in her youth, had a throaty-voiced way of delivering her lines but was neither sultry nor a siren.

SECRETS: Women who attend all feminine bridge parties are inclined to tell family secrets on these occasions. For that reason, no man with a bridge-playing wife was engaged to work on the atomic bomb research. As you may have noted, that is what Dr. Joseph C. Morris of Tulane University has stated. This is not only a reflection on bridge-playing women, but also one on their husbands. It indicates a belief the average man cannot keep a secret from his wife. Our Mules & Men Department experts state most men do very well in keeping secrets from their wives. In fact, they believe there is hardly a man alive who hasn't several secrets from his wife. It was Gilbert White who said: "The man who has no secrets from his wife either has no secrets, or no wife."

Also, how long does it take the average female to wash and shampoo her hair and do it up in curls? FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—As every child learns in the first year of school, artificial light was invented in approximately 4,000 B. C. by Cimex Lectularius, the Ephesian fisherman and philosopher, who became exasperated because he was constantly bumping into doors in the dark.

Westbrook Pegler

For the next 5,000 years further progress was slow, however, and the lantern, burning a wick dipped in mule-marrow, appears to have been the first dependable artificial illumination, although Olium Ricini of Genoa, the inventor, was publicly put to death by Pedro, the Paltry, on a charge of heresy for "turning night into day against divine intent."

This drastic punishment and popular superstition in support of it deterred further experiment almost until our time.

Many men and women still living recall the coal-oil lamp as a novelty and a boon. And their grandparents lived in a day when artificial light was a luxury of seaboard settlements exclusively in which whale-oil was obtainable.

Then came the gas light and presently the Welsbach mantle which would dissolve into ashes if you so much as looked cock-eyed at the damn thing and, at last, the electric light, described as a burning hairpin in a bottle, and a crop of rube jokes about hicks in city hotels trying to blow it out.

AS RECENTLY as Abraham Lincoln's boyhood only the well-to-do had even candle light in their dwellings and a good thing for Lincoln and a lot of other people, because otherwise he would not have had to study his lessons by the light of the cabin hearth fire, an incident which his campaign manager ballyhooed to show he had a heart of gold

But for that, Henry Ford would have had to think up some other name for his big de luxe job and thousands of Lincoln warehouse and storage companies, cleaning and dyeing companies, and hotels would be called Ajax or Nonpareil or Ideal.

Also in our time, American architects hit upon a rather good idea of making plenty of windows and work was easy on the eyes and people could recognize one another by sight.

Then came the modern decorators and an innovation called "decor." In a general way it means some of the ugliest and most uncomfortable furniture since the invention of the milking stool and lamp-shades like buckets that conceal most of the light or throw it in such a way that you practically have to lie on the back of your neck to read.

It means heavy draperies across the windows to keep out the daylight and, as if those dim-out lampshades weren't bad enough, they designed lamps like a six-foot length of ordinary gas-pipe with a sort of bird-bath on top so when you turn it on, why the light goes straight up in the air and they say it is supposed to bounce back and make indirect lighting but they are just a pack of liars because the light just makes a spot on the ceiling and stays there.

NOW IF YOU go into somebody's office you almost have to use a phosphorus cane to tap your way around and you are always making enemies of old friends because you don't recognize them in the gloom and the most up-to-date hotel room is more like solitary at Alcatraz.

There is a big chop suey place in Washington so dark you can't even read the menu so I mentioned this to the fellow and he said it didn't make any difference because it is either chop suey, chow mein or sub gum and the idea, he said, is people like it because if a man comes in with some babe nobody will be able to go blab to his ever-loving spouse that he was going around town sowing oats.

"Mebbe so," I said, "man alles samee want look-see pletty girl while she chow chow."

"Yes," he said, "but mebbe he bling old lady, herself, and like to imagine he off on sneak with pletty one, hah—hah—hah."

Well, poor Olium Ricini needn't have been put away because if Pedro had had foresight he would have known that by 1945 in the ingenious United States primeval pitch would be descending again through the marvelous invention of dark light which in a few years more will produce a race of wall-eyed Americans dwelling in the state of Cimex Lectularius before he got sick and tired of tripping over roller skates in the hall.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 4—Linda Darnell very proudly boasts that she is part Indian and so when she was told that she was to play "Ramona" in the 1945 version of that famous American classic, she was overjoyed. Linda, I might say, was sort of a stepchild at 20th for a long time. No one seemed to realize her potentialities. Now, she has blossomed out, and some of the best stories are being given to her.

Linda Darnell

The new "Ramona" will have a musical score by Dave Rose. Darryl Zanuck has engaged him and appointed William Bacher to produce a story which has gone into almost as many editions as the Bible. Ramona falls in love with an Indian, much to the displeasure of the aristocratic family who has adopted her. But in the end, as you remember, it turns out that she is an Indian girl. This picture has been made again and again on the screen and will be good as long as there are people who see movies.

I SEE Laura La Plante almost every day—because she lives across the street from me. I've often wondered why Laura hasn't come back to the screen. She looks very much as she did when she was Universal's top actress. But she's so happily married to Irving Asher and so busy with her children that she hasn't had time to think very much about her career until she was asked to go into "Army Brat" at MGM. Well, the role in that was so good, she's accepted it and you'll see her on the screen again with Frances Gifford, Butch Jenkins and James Craig.

I WONDER if any of you remember when George McManus' famous Maggie and Jiggs were in a Metro picture with Marie Dressler as Maggie and J. Farrell McDonald as Jiggs. Now Trem Carr of Monogram has just closed a deal to make a minimum of two pictures a year based on the comic strip. He will stage a nation-wide hunt to find a Jiggs and a Maggie.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—Now the shameful, sordid, truth can be told. There is hardly a member of Congress who was not delighted to see Washington nosed out of the World Series!

I will bet this goes particularly for Happy Chandler, who is both a Senator and baseball's high commissioner. But, of course, you will never get him to admit it. He'd have to go around Washington in disguise if he did.

Happy Chandler

The reason for Congressional joy over the Nats' failure to grab the American League pennant is almost too obvious to bother narrating. For weeks Representatives and Senators had been swamped with requests from voters, etc., to get them World Series tickets—which they knew they couldn't get!

IT'S TOUGH for a Congressman to admit he can't produce. Also, it lowers him sadly in the estimation of his constituents—particularly prominent constituents who want to see the World Series.

STRANGERS to the New House Office Building usually spend the first few minutes being bewildered. If they enter by the main front entrance they find themselves—ostensibly—on the 11th floor!

And if they descend to the basement they seem to be on the 10th floor.

The worst of it is that this screwy arrangement was made to avoid confusion—so visitors would not confuse the New House Office Building with the Old House Office Building across the street.

The old structure has five floors, numbered accordingly. The new building has seven. But room numbers in the new place begin at 1000.

For instance, Room 1009, which is occupied by Rep. Leroy J. Johnson of California, is in the basement, while Room 1128, occupied by Noble J. Johnson of Indiana, is on the main floor. Room 1203, housing Luther A. Johnson of Texas, is one flight up.

Six floors up is still another Johnson—Anton J. of Illinois—and his room number is 1630.

Of course, we have other congressmen not named Johnson, but I am only trying to explain the numbering.

Rep. Paul W. Shafer of Michigan—whose name is not Johnson, either—said he has encountered many evidences of confusion but none so bad as that which befell him the other day. He avers he was approaching his office when he found a group gathered about a messenger girl who was lying on the floor, screaming.

When the girl was quieted down—Shafer swears—she explained she had become hysterical trying to find room 1112, which happens to be Shafer's.

"But that isn't the worst," continued Shafer. "About an hour later I came out of my office and found another messenger in a daze in the corridor. He said he had a telegram for Leroy Johnson in Room 1009 and asked if he was on my floor. I told him to go down a flight, whereupon he looked at me as if I were crazy and said he was on the bottom floor already.

"'No, you're not,' I said, 'the tenth floor is in the cellar.'

"The messenger obviously thought I was kidding, but finally I convinced him. As he started down the stairs he said:

"'If I'd known this I would have had this wire delivered an hour ago!'"

★ ★ ★

SHAFER TOLD me something which I do not believe for a minute, although I am extremely gullible about everything in Washington.

"Know how they pick messengers to the New House Office building?" he asked. "They are people who have had mental breakdowns but have recuperated. As a final test they are put on this run. If they don't crack up in a week they are pronounced cured!

go out and bring back the safe crackers, was headed by Lt. John Willard. Working with him were Sgt. Arthur Tiernan and Special Officers William J. Boudreau, William Philbrick, Nicholas J. Watters and Peter M. Donnelly.

The taxicab holdup suspects were arrested by Lt. Robert Dalton and Patrolmen John E. Gibbons and James Chisholm in Eustis st., Roxbury, at 2:30 a. m. Gibbons is the young officer who several months ago disarmed and captured two thugs on a speeding and crowded elevated train.

The three officers rushed to Roxbury in a cruiser car as soon as headquarters received a report that Joseph A. Wazbak, 46, a cab driver, of West Brookline st., Back Bay, had been held up and robbed of his cab and $45 by two men.

Yazbak had told police the two men hired his cab while he was parked at Tremont and Union Park sts., South End. They asked to be driven to a Eustis st., Roxbury, address. Near the Palmer School, one of the men prodded the driver in the neck with a knife and demanded his cash. Yazbak gave them $40 in bills and $5 in change.

Ordering Yazbak to take a walk, the pair took his cab and drove off in the direction of Albany st.

Ten minutes after he had telephoned police, the two suspects were picked up in Brookline st., less than 300 yards from an alley where Yazbak's cab was found abandoned. One man had a hunting knife in his pocket, the other a holster and carried a can opener with a handle which resembled a gun. The two men had $40 in bills and $5 in cash on their persons.

In the lineup the pair denied the holdup but Yazbak picked them out as the men who robbed him.

An 18-year-old Negro soldier, AWOL from Ft. Devens, admitted an attempt to rob William Goon, 47, of Appleton st., South End. He told Lt. James V. Crowley in the lineup that he "didn't know what he did it for."

Held as Driver In Death-Ride

Accused as the driver of the death car in the gangland slaying of Robert (Tex) Williams, 19-year-old ex-Marine of Haverhill, James Salah, 23, of Longwood ave., Brookline, was held without bail in Lynn court today after he pleaded not guilty to a charge of murder. Williams was found shot to death in the Lynn marshes Aug. 31.

Arrest and arraignment of Salah, a Boston taxicab driver, came 24 hours after Philip R. Belino, 30, of Anderson st., West End, was charged with Williams' murder. Belino also pleaded not guilty and is being held without bail.

Beauty — Here's Relief for Dry Skin Sufferers — Fashion

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

NOW THAT WE are in the atomic age . . . any woman who doesn't make science work to protect her birthright . . . attractiveness . . . must feel antediluvian indeed. Not that science has been doing any atom-smashing to make cosmetics. But, that wouldn't be necessary anyway . . . considering that beauty science is far enough advanced to keep women young and increase their facial charms.

WOMEN QUESTING for facial attraction can waste a lot of time and loveliness if, one, they don't know what kind of skin they have . . . and two, if it is dry, they don't pursue a complexion-softening antidote that is practically infallible in reducing the complexion to dove-back smoothness. Columbia Songstress Janet Blair has beauty, youth and a sultry smile . . . all of which add up to what we girls would like for ourselves.

The only backward element in the whole situation is apt to be the average woman herself . . . who repeatedly invests her money in the best creams and tonics . . . and then acts as if she expected cosmic rays to reach out from the unopened jars and work a miracle.

Of course, that can't be . . . but patience and perseverance do reap rewards . . . and in the final analysis it is the woman who keeps plugging at beauty who emerges a lovely, beautiful, well-groomed personality . . . the cynosure of envious eyes and the essence of charm.

Oddly enough in our day, many a woman does not know what kind of skin she has. Many women do have normal, or so-called average skins . . . but, by far the majority suffer from dryness. That is the most common complexion complaint throughout the country . . . and the wail and cry of New England women especially prone to unpredictable climatic buffeting . . . the whimsy of our geographical locale. There's one thing about an oily complexion. If you have that kind of skin, you know it and there's no two ways about it.

But skin dryness very often deceives some of us. And, if you aren't certain about your skin you can rest assured it's a little on the dry side. Now a dry skin needs as much extra-special attention as the oily skin . . . for while it is not so liable to eruptions, it is more subject to the premature appearance of lines and wrinkles . . . wrought by the lack of skin resiliency and natural lubrication.

Take a satiny smooth essential cream and cucumber emulsion and put them to work on your complexion and you've got a pair of beauty bounties that will send skin dryness into oblivion and help your countenance in returning to the soft, smooth, velvety texture that's indicative of the skin-you-love-to-touch-type of beauty. If you suffer from extra dry or sensitive skin . . . a small amount of special oil warmed and massaged into the skin in addition to the two previous items . . . will reinvigorate the beauty dose that makes the skin smooth and supple

For the names of these dry skin dispellers, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Your Manners—Your Personality

You are the one who must choose the kind of manners you wish to have, the kind you wish to live with in your mind and heart and spirit. And the kind you choose to have will make the difference in your personality, and in your popularity.—MRS. BEECKMAN.

NEW AS THE moment and a dramatic indispensable for glamorizing the simplest suit, this superfine rayon crepe "Victory dickey" . . . worked with center-joined wide bands in two or three color combinations . . . is a topnotch and timely accessory when blouses are too bulky under the jacket. Exquisitely blended, the colors are brilliant spotlight for any non-commital two-piecer . . . R. M.

Still Loves School Pal

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
When I was still in high school I fell in love with a girl in my class, but made the mistake of showing her how much she meant to me and she lost interest. I was very good to her and gave her gifts and took her out to school affairs and movies. It just about broke me all up when she told me she was interested in someone else. That was two years ago and I know she isn't married and that she doesn't go with anyone in particular

I haven't forgotten her, although I never see her, and think I still love her. I'm 21 now and she's 20. I've gone out with lots of girls, but don't care for any of them. I'd like to take her out again - would it be all right if I went over to see her? I know she did like me a lot at one time

F. G.

Of course, it would be all right for you to try to regain this girl's affection. Perhaps the reason she hasn't tried to see you is that she's ashamed of the way she acted in turning you down. If she does decline to renew your friendship, don't let it make you unhappy. Go out with other girls. Time can wear away love affairs even as the constant dripping of water will wear away a rock

Beef Plentiful for Homemade Chop Suey

By MARTHA LEE
Household Editor

FOR SOME TIME we've tucked away plans for homemade chop suey meals because of the mere dribble into the market of pork and veal, the usual "suey" ingredients. Now this Chinese-American dish can be revived for here's a newly developed recipe for chop suey using now plentiful beef

It takes a little longer cooking than the otherwise meated recipes, requires more liquid (to allow for evaporation during the extra cooking), and needs a bouillon cube or two for richer flavor, but it's every bit as good as the pre-war dish.

BEEF CHOP SUEY

1 tbsp. salt — 1½ tsp. salt
1½ lbs. lean beef
3 cups hot water
1½ cups onions, chopped
1 cups sliced celery
1 jar bean sprouts or mixed Chinese vegetables
4 tbsp. cornstarch
3 tbsp. cold water
2 tsp. or more soy sauce
¼ tsp. pepper — 1½ tsp. sugar
1 or 2 bouillon cubes

Purchase ¾ inch thick slices of meat, if possible. Wipe meat with a damp cloth and cut into strips with kitchen shears. Sear in hot fat quickly without browning. Sprinkle with half the salt and 1 tsp. of soy sauce. Cook until vegetables are barely tender, about 20 minutes. Mix cornstarch, cold water and sugar, add to hot mixture and stir until thickened. Add bean sprouts, reheat, taste and add pepper, an extra bouillon cube and extra salt and soy sauce if necessary. Just before serving add, if desired, a few whole toasted almonds. Serve chop suey over hot boiled rice and sprinkle with a few extra almonds

Here are other recipes for using the available beef:

DEVILED SWISS STEAK

2 to 2½ lbs. round, chuck or rump steak, cut 1 to 1½ inches thick — ¼ cup flour
2 tsp. salt — ½ tsp. pepper
1½ tsp. dry mustard ¼ cup fat
1½ tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
½ cup hot water

Wipe meat with a damp cloth. Mix flour, salt, pepper and mustard. Sprinkle over meat and pound in with a meat pounder or edge of heavy saucer. Pound both across and with meat fibers, and continue until all flour is absorbed. Melt fat in heavy frying pan or Dutch oven and in it brown meat thoroughly. Add Worcestershire sauce and water. Cover tightly and simmer for three hours or until tender, adding more water as necessary. (Thinner steaks require less time.)

RABBIT BURGERS

½ cup chopped onions
¾ lb. ground beef
2 tbsp. milk — ¾ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper 2 tbsp. butter

Saute onions lightly in butter. Add rest of ingredients and form into six flat cakes. Brown in hot drippings. Place on buttered halves of buns and serve hot with a topping of rabbit sauce. To make a snappy sauce, add 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce to two cups cheese sauce and stir in a beaten egg just before serving. Makes six servings.

Joint Gift To Bride

DEAR Mrs. Beeckman:
The fiance of my first cousin has just arrived from overseas and they are to be married soon in church. I am to be her maid of honor and my sister is to be one of the bridesmaids. My mother is planning to give the bride-to-be an important and rather expensive gift. My sister and I are wondering if we, as attendants, should give her a separate wedding gift. If so, what kind of gift would be appropriate?

W. S.

It will be proper for you and your sister to do as you prefer: (1) contribute your individual quotas to the amount your mother is planning to spend, and send this joint gift as your family's gift; (2) give the bride-to-be a gift from you and your sister; or (3) each of you sisters give an individual gift.

More Shape to Fur Coats

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THERE ARE big changes brewing in the idea the fashion folks have about fur coats. Some top-rank designers have gone into fur coat designing, and the result is that you can now have a coat which looks good on you, no matter what fur it happens to be made of, and this is real news. This year there are even well-designed coats in inexpensive furs.

You don't have to wear megalomaniac sleeves if you haven't the body lines to get away with them. You don't have to slink down under giant, aggressive shoulder lines, or any other disfiguring line. The expensiveness of the fur in your coat won't compensate if it disfigures you. A bankroll, while nice to have, isn't always flattering to look at, you know.

Clubs Share JVA Show Reward

Six gay songs, along with exciting adventures and colorful spectacles, are blended in Walt Disney's "Pinocchio," now showing at the Majestic and Tremont Theaters where Junior Victory Army officers will be guests Saturday morning.

Along with the JVA leaders will be Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts and members of the Boston Boys' Club and Boston Girls' Clubs. The free entertainment is a reward for the JVA September ragweed destruction campaign and other war activities.

Tickets have been mailed to corps commanders for distribution to the other officers and sponsors.

Among the features of "Pinocchio" is a sequence in which music boxes carved by kindly old Geppetto tinkle out their tuneful melodies. These include "When You Wish Upon a Star," "Little Woodenhead," "Give a Little Whistle," "Ih-Diddle-Dee-Dee, An Actor's Life for Me," "Got No Strings" and "Three Cheers for Anything."

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army headquarters, P. O. Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

Favorites on Local Screen

Three of the entertainment world's favorite dream princes are currently to be seen on local screens.

They are Dick Haymes, Frank Sinatra and Dana Andrews (who can be caught on three screens). Haymes, with Andrews, Jeanne Crain and Vivian Blaine, appears in "State Fair," the bucolic musical in blushing Technicolor now in its second week on Keith Memorial screen.

Sinatra is teamed with Gene Kelly, the wonderful song-and-dance comedian of stage and screen, in Loew's joyous hit, "Anchors Aweigh." The bobbysoxers' idol is surprisingly acceptable as Kelly's sailor-suited, shy pal.

A dark-horse who has zoomed up to the front ranks, Dana Andrews, is to be seen in "The Purple Heart," the fighting-mad drama of eight intrepid Yanks whom Jap torture and diabolical brutality couldn't stop from bringing United States vengeance to Tokyo. The impressive Hollywood production is now being revived on the Paramount and Fenway screens.

Patton's Fatal 'Mystery Trip' to PW Son-in-Law

By AUSTEN LAKE

I MADE SOLEMN PROMISE I would not write this story until, or unless, some other war correspondent did so first. I have kept that promise! Today it was published in part under the by-line of Larry Newman, one of our Third Army fellowship during Gen. Patton's assault on the Reich.

Austen Lake

It concerns Patton's assignment of 301 soldiers and 53 armored vehicles as a special task force to liberate a German prison stalag near Hammelburg last March. It was an incomprehensible "mystery mission" with what seemed an aimless hazard, especially since the Fourth Armor Division was overrunning Nazi prison stalags in its path and Hammelburg, lying as it did some 50 miles outside the Third Army's combat zone, didn't seem to offer any significance as a target! Or so we of the Fourth thought, until later we discovered that this stalag held Gen. Patton's son-in-law, Col. John A. Waters, who had been a PW since North Africa.

The task force sallied out, and morbid truth bids me tell that, until I left the Fourth late last April, only two of the 301 soldiers were acounted for. The rest were killed, wounded or captured. Whether others were later recovered I do not know. But the 53 tanks and motor vehicles were all destroyed. Also, though the task force technically "completed its mission," it was for a few moments only, during which the few liberated prisoners were recaptured and Col. Waters was wounded seriously in the abdomen and will probably remain an invalid for the rest of his days. It was a bitter price, especially since the Seventh Army, on our right, would have liberated Hammelburg in a matter of days.

His Aide Went Along for "Laughs"

LATER I LEARNED THAT PATTON had explained to the Third press conference that he "couldn't sleep nights, for worrying about the hard lot of Hammelburg's prisoners." Which prompted more than one correspondent to remark, "If one prison camp keeps Patton awake, he'll die of insomnia worrying about a hundred others."

What special significance did Hammelburg hold? For Patton did not mention that it housed his son-in-law. Nor were the Third's correspondents permitted to draw later conclusions. The story was strictly "blacked out" by Third Army orders. The only mention censors permitted was a vague, undetailed item that a U. S. task force had been lost.

Until today nothing further was printed about that disastrous foray, which was actually one of the heroic sagas of the war. It died an anonymous death and I wouldn't mention it now, except (1) that Newman did so first and (2) I feel an obligation to tell how those men bled and died.

I was with the Fourth during its spearhead drive north of Frankfort on March 25 when an Army order came by short wave to dispatch a task force immediately to Hammelburg. Object: to liberate the nearby prison camp.

It created a lot of perplexity around the message center, where the universal question was, "Why Hammelburg?", which lay well outside our Army limits. It was puzzling, because at the time the Fourth needed all its men and material for its critical lunge toward the Reich heart. It didn't seem to make tactical sense!

To add to the riddle Patton's personal aide, one Maj. Stillers, suddenly appeared at the jump-off point and said he was going along. It seemed odd that a rear-echelon officer would desert the safe haven of the SOS to jeopardize his life on so hazardous a mission. It also puzzled the task force commander, Capt. Abe Baum, whose home address is 2855 Claflin Ave., Bronx 63, N.Y.C., so that Abe asked, "Why go on such a risky mission when you don't have to?" To which Stiller replied stonily, "I'm going for the laughs," a retort that Baum interpreted as "Mind your business!" So he did, just accepting Stiller as an official passenger with a secret purpose.

BAUM AND A SERGEANT NAMED Charles O. Graham of 108 Fairlawn ave., Beckley, W. Va., were the only ones to get back, as far as I can learn. Not one of the force except these two, unless it was Stiller, knew that Patton's son-in-law was a PW in the objective camp. And it was open discussion among the Fourth's soldiery that Stiller would scarcely join so perilous an errand for "laughs," or even if he wanted to, Patton would hardly have sanctioned such a frivolous motive. So we assumed that Stiller had a well-defined mission among the 300 combat Joes to whom, as Lord Tennyson says, "theirs not to reason why, theirs but to do or die."

So after the little task force jumped off on March 26, we of CCB followed its lethal travelogue by short wave radio, which grew fainter as the force penetrated deeper. I quote from the notes I kept on these messages, one of which, at 0945 hours on March 27, read, "Lost 4 mediums (tanks) and two lights, two officers, unknown number of enlisted men. Will continue to do utmost, Baum." Later Baum related how, hour after hour, his force was whittled down by sniper, bazooka fire and overwhelming opposition. They left a wake of dead and wounded. For what purpose?

Another radiogram said, "Request more and continued air support" and again later, as his column melted to a shadow, "Please send air support." That was the last message we received until late in the evening when Baum radioed weakly and tersely, "Mission accomplished."

But he didn't say anything about releasing the American PWs, including Patton's son-in-law, or that his pathetic remnant was encircled and minutes away from obliteration. He didn't say that he had a pistol bullet through his leg or that Col. Waters was shot in the stomach or that there was only a handful of his original 300 men. Good soldier that he was he merely said, "Mission accomplished." It remained for the German Army radio to give us the morbid conclusion—"An American tank column of some 300 men and 50 vehicles was destroyed or captured."

That was all!

(Tomorrow Austen Lake will continue the revelation of the "sacrifice mission" and what happened to Patton's son-in-law.)

2d Game Weather OK

BRIGGS STADIUM, DETROIT, Oct. 4 (AP) — Today was the day that should have happened yesterday in this wide ballyard. In place of biting 36 degree temperature, early arrivals this morning found the thermometer showing a rising 65, and conditions generally perfect for the second clash of the Tigers and Cubs.

Although they had slumped to 8 to 5 underdogs because of the 9-0 beating they absorbed in the opener, the Tigers were 5 to 6 choice to even it up today. This was because they had on their starting line their blaze-ball right-hander, Virgil Trucks.

The band took its customary chairs on the centerfield grass promptly at 10:30 a. m. and immediately went to work with an accompaniment to the continuously incoming bleacherites.

The groundskeepers spent some two hours grooming the infield dirt, smoothing it down and polishing it up generally until it practically glistened in the sun.

At 10:50, the first of the Tigers appeared on the field to start batting practice. Prince Oana, Hawaiian righthander, was the opening pitcher for the hitting workout.

The first of the Cubs appeared on the scene at 11:20 and sat around in and out of their bullpen just off first base, awaiting their turn at the hitting cage.

A few of the Tiger varsity finally found the range, and outfielder Roy Cullenbine, who used to do it regularly as a Yankee, drew a loud hand as he put one well into the upper stands in right, some 360 feet away, and dropped another into the lower seats just below.

Talking to baseball writers on the field as his team worked out, Tiger Manager O'Neill said he was not particularly "perturbed" over yesterday's walloping. However, he admitted he may shift his pitching order and come back in Saturday's fourth game—the first at Chicago—with Lefty Hal Newhouser, who was knocked out in three innings yesterday.

Previously, his announcement was to pitch Dizzy Trout, strong-armed right-hander, Saturday, after using Trucks today and Lefty Stubby Overmire tomorrow.

Meantime, Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs announced definitely his selection for tomorrow still is Claude Passeau, 17-game right-hand winner.

At 12:20, the Tigers turned over the diamond to the National League champions, and with Coach Roy Johnson serving them up, the first hitter, reserve outfielder Ed Sauer, promptly belted one into the upper tier in left field, and second-string first baseman Heinz Becker followed by clubbing one among the lower right field customers.

The batting cage was wheeled away at 1 p. m. and the Cubs spread around the diamond and the outer grass for fielding practice and fungo-chasing.

The breeze had died down considerably as game time approached, and was just about strong enough to lazily flap the flags hanging from the poles all around the roof.

In addition to starting Stubby Overmire, Mgr. O'Neill of the Tigers said he was making one change in his lineup for tomorrow. This will be to give the catching assignment to Bob Swift, .233 right-hand hitter during the regular season, in place of tall Paul Richards, who committed two passed balls yesterday and permitted two Cubs to steal second on him. Richards was the catcher today, however.

Eskew, Johnston On Callahan Card

John Henry Eskew, Brockton, middleweight, has been signed to fight Bill Johnston, New York, in one of four 10-round bouts on a Callahan A. C. boxing program next Monday night at Mechanics building. Eskew has won five straight by kayos.

Other 10-rounders Monday will be Tommy Moore, South Boston, vs. Bobby English, Fall River, in a return bout; John Cesario, North End, vs. Ceferino Bronco, Fall River, and Fred Cabral, Cambridge, vs. Broadway Johnny Jones, Pittsburgh.

Tigers Remain 6-5 Favorites

DETROIT, Oct. 4 (INS)—Odds on the World Series underwent one of the sharpest changes today as a result of the Chicago Cubs' lopsided 9-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the World Series opener yesterday.

The Tigers have dropped from favorites to 8 to 5 underdogs for the series. For today's game, however, the Tigers were 6 to 5 favorites. If you wanted to bet on the Cubs it was even money.

Former Ring Champ In Critical Condition

FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 4 (AP)—Ralph Giordana, 40, who won the world's welterweight boxing crown in 1933 as Young Corbett III, is in a critical condition in a hospital with head injuries as the result of an auto crash.

Young Corbett won the welterweight title in Los Angeles when he outpointed Jack Fields. He retired from the ring in 1940 and has operated a Fresno bar since.

ZAMPERINI ON WAY HOME

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4 (INS)—Capt. Lou Zamperini, famed University of California, miler, prepared today to check out of Letterman General Hospital, en route to his home in Torrance, Cal.

Washington Officials to Help Boom Athletics

By JACK CONWAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—President Truman and others in high places in government intend to do everything possible to encourage athletic programs throughout the country . . . The wonderful achievements in the war by former athletic greats proved the value of sports to the country in the time of its greatest emergency.

Sen. Saltonstall

Washington is also feeling pressure from people who are interested in seeing the Navy-Notre Dame game at Cleveland on Nov. 3, the Army-Notre Dame game in New York on Nov. 10, and the Army-Navy classic in Philadelphia on Dec. 1. . . All three games are sell-outs which is always the time one writes to his favorite Senator or Congressman asking if he can forget matters of State long enough to secure a couple of ducats.

Washington baseball fans like the Tigers to beat the Cubs in the World Series. . . There are two reasons for this. First, the Tigers beat out the Senators in one of the most thrilling American League races in history, and secondly this city cannot be expected to have many National League rooters in view of the fact it is a one club town with its team in the American League. . . Financially the Senators had a big year.

Griffith Stadium is sold out for all of the Redskins' home games.

This will give the Senators additional revenue.

Hap Robinson, circulation director of Mrs. Patterson's Washington Times-Herald, has been setting new circulation marks every month . . . Hap was formerly associated with the Hearst Boston newspapers.

Boxing and wrestling shows are going big here . . . With thousands of out-of-towners living in Washington hotels and lodging houses, everyone wants to go places where there is excitement . . . Maryland race tracks also benefit from this.

SUCH MATTERS as international conferences and lend lease have been sidetracked while Congress has sought to bring about full employment . . . Senators Saltonstall and Walsh of Massachusetts and Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, who was born in Chelsea and who later did newspaper work in Cambridge, have been on the winning senatorial team in the employment flight.

There has been so much talk here about Senator O'Mahoney's answers in the Senate to questions by Senator Saltonstall that I secured a complete report of the questions and answers. Here they are:

MR. SALTONSTALL. At the proper time I should like to ask the distinguished Senator a question about this chart. What he has described, as I understand it, is the so-called Hanson theory.

MR. O'MAHONEY. No; the Senator is quite wrong. I am not describing the Hanson theory. I am describing the financial condition of this government and of the people.

MR. SALTONSTALL. I beg the Senator's pardon.

MR. O'MAHONEY. I am not an advocate of deficit spending.

MR. SALTONSTALL. Let me ask my question in this form, then, without putting in the name of Professor Hanson, whose theory I cannot understand.

The debt of the country has been going up very substantially. The income is rising, and the revenues of the Government are rising more slowly. In the fiscal year 1945, when the income of the country was up to about $170,000,000,000, approximately $95,000,000,000 of that was represented by purchases by the Federal Government, and the balance by our people. That was in time of war. The honorable Senator in his previous chart shows that the great purchasing power of the country came from persons with $4,000 and less income a year.

MR. O'MAHONEY. Individual purchasing power.

Mr. SALTONSTALL. Individual purchasing power. In peacetime much of that great Government purchasing of approximately $95,000,000,000 by the Federal Government has got to stop. Much of the purchasing must be by private individuals. My question is this: In the opinion of the distinguished Senator can the debt of the Federal Government keep on going up or remain as much as it is above the revenues of the Treasury, and still make it possible for the individual to have that purchasing power?

Mr. O'MAHONEY. Certainly not. Of course it cannot. That is what I am arguing against. I am arguing against deficit spending. I am arguing against a situation that compels it. I am arguing against the work-relief proposal of the minority, which is deficit spending. I am arguing for the investment of private capital under a free-enterprise system, and the elimination of deficit spending.

For Bay State Aid

Mr. SALTONSTALL. The bill in one of its provisions seeks to provide for Federal investment and expenditure.

Mr. O'MAHONEY. Yes; certainly.

Mr. SALTONSTALL. Can the Federal Government do that successfully to help the purchasing power of individuals, and do it without providing taxation to meet the cost and yet avoid deficit spending?

Mr. O'MAHONEY. I think the Government can avoid deficit spending by stimulating the investment of private capital in independent local enterprise. I should like to see the industries of Massachusetts restored to what they used to be before some of them moved out of the State of Massachusetts.

Mr. SALTONSTALL. May I ask the Senator whether he is speaking as a former resident of Massachusetts or as the Senator from Wyoming?

Mr. O'MAHONEY. I am speaking as a Senator from Wyoming and as a native of the State of Massachusetts, a State which I am proud to say has always been very progressive in its attitude toward public affairs, a State which I am sure would endorse the principle which I am advocating today.

Mr. SALTONSTALL. May I ask the Senator one more question in a serious vein?

Mr. O'MAHONEY. I am serious all the time, and even in the last remark. (Laughter.)

Mr. SALTONSTALL. That stands as the record of the Senator from Wyoming, and I appreciate it.

Navy Vet Queenan Eagles' Best Punter

By HUCK FINNEGAN

BC's football lineup is studded with war vets, and one of the headliners is John Queenan, Canton boy who lost an eye while in the Navy. The best punter BC has boasted since Tony Di Natale, Queenan is threatening to displace war vet Gene Nash as No. 1 fullback in Saturday's game with Brown.

Weighing well over 200, Queenan's drawback at season's start was lack of speed. That is understandable considering his three years in the service. But he's been picking them up and laying them down with alacrity the past week, and Coach Sarno may give him the nod.

Competition is keen for practically every position on the BC squad, which has far more talent than the '44 group. Jim McMorrow is pressing Eddie Cronin for the qb post, and Navy flier Steve Stuka may eventually move in ahead of both.

Carney started at rhb against Squantum, but Charlie Bennett will start there Saturday, moving over from lhb to make room for Armand Longval, Tom Lamb and Bill English. And Steve Helstowski, wounded at Guadal, is batting tooth and nail for the rhb position.

Bob Quinn is holding his tackle post, but John Muse has been shifted to guard, and Ben Giordino will pair with Quinn at Brown. But Quinn and Giordino may give way soon to Henry Pelletier from Peabody and Jerry Levinson from the Cape.

Mat Ruggiero was a starting guard last week but Cosmo Caterino may pair with Lou Sammartino at Brown. Pete Kalafatus is also in the running.

"I can't tell definitely myself yet," said Sarno of his starting eleven. "Pelletier, Lamb, Longval, Levinson, Stuka have just joined the squad. It'll take a week or more for them to catch up. But they have the stuff."

BC is definitely on the road back. The freshman class of 500 is pre-war size. For the first time in three years Sarno has two capable aids in Don Currivan and Al Fiorentino. They're more than earning their salt. And there is good size, speed and depth for a welcome change.

The team may not beat Brown Saturday, but it will make Rip Engle's boys step. It should be a pretty classy group in a couple of weeks.

Like Frank Maznicki, Tom Lamb is from West Warwick, R. I. From his showing in midweek scrimmage, he may develop into another Maz. He can carry the mail . . . George Donelan, center, and Tuck Twomey, end, have a firm grip on their jobs . . . War vets on the roster are Carney, Ferdenzi, Conte, Queenan, Helstowski, English, Nash, Sammartino, Williams, Muse, Twomey, Eden, Graham, Stuka . . . Twomey was blown out of a foxhole in Italy . . . Helstowski had his legs riddled with shrapnel at Guadal . . . Queenan, besides the loss of an eye, was a victim of malaria . . . Ends Graham and Stasunas were lieutenants in the Air Corps. Graham had 40 missions in Europe . . . BC can field an all-17-year-old backfield in Bennett, McMorrow, Mroz and Maloney, an all-service backfield in Carney, English, Queenan, Helstowski . . . The squad will leave Saturday at 9 a. m. by bus.

Jack Grout Head Pro at Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 4 (AP)—Jack Grout, golf professional at the Suburban Chicago Club, has been named head pro at the Harrisburg Country Club.

Grout, former assistant at the Hershey (Pa.) Country Club, succeeds Henry Picard, who leaves for the Canterbury Country Club of Cleveland next spring. Grout is slated to take up his new duties April 1 of next year.

Salem Squad Dreams Of Jaunt to Miami

By MIKE GILLOOLY

There's a favorite slogan "Join the Navy and see the world" but down at Salem, the kids in the high school have twisted it around to "Join the football team and see the South." And as events have proven in the past, they're not far wrong.

It wasn't too many years ago that Bill Broderick (retiring, incidentally, in January) started the move and last fall, Coach Glenn O'Brien followed up with his undefeated Witches.

That team with its Tassinari, Longval, Mroz and Belleau was tremendous. It proved such a hit, in fact, that the Kiwanis Club, sponsors of the Orange Bowl clash with Miami High, automatically invited the Salem team for a return trip this fall. Nothing further has been publicized about another jaunt but if this new Salem comes through as expected, it's quite possible that the invitation will be picked up.

As a matter of fact, if the squad hadn't been stripped of its veteran material (by the Navy, at that), Salem might well be roaring back. Coach O'Brien had planned cozily for this 1945 campaign so that Lytle Smith, t, Emilio Belleau, qb, Armand Longval, lhb, Mike Nichypor, t, and Don Chalifour, c, were to come back.

All but Longval, now at Boston College, hooked up in the Navy.

At ends, Coach O'Brien has moved Fran Kelley, 165-pound junior, up from the subs and picked up a nifty senior in Bert Raby, 158, who was ineligible last fall. Paul Gibbons, 178 and a senior, will balance Rizzotti on the tackles. Junior John Ahern, 184, and Marty Ryan, 176-pound newcomer, will be at the guards flanking center Don Deschesnes, 170-pound senior.

Capt. Poitras will have underclassmen with him in the backfield. Sophomore Bob Shea, 150-pound passer, will call the plays; Bob Jalbert, 160-pound sophomore triple threat, will be at right half with Andy Konovalchik, 168 and a junior, at full, Jalbert and Shea are experienced travelers in Florida.

Others who will see service include: ends—Dick Frye, Dick Phillips, Ken St. Pierre, Normie Ouellette; tackles — Warren Hurley, Stan Stavisky, Chris Trainor, Fred Meyer; guards—John Caren, Henry Naczas, John Cappacco, Dave (another) Tassinari; centers —Fred Dominick, Dick Ouellette; backs—Dick Madore, Wilfred Jodoin, Bob Courtney, Tom Lally, Dick LeBel, Ed Pike, Jerry Nelzer, and Jim Ryan, son of "Doc."

Of the 33-player squad, 21 will be back next fall. So you can see the deep planning that's ahead of this Salem team.

Over the years with Old Overholt

GONE are the flatboat days of 1810. And the little old log cabin distillery beside the Youghiogheny River has evolved into the modern plant where Old Overholt is made today. And Old Overholt is still made with the same deep, inviting amber color and the same rich, robust grainy taste—a whiskey still meriting high praise from those who like a good, straight, 5-year-old rye with a good taste that always stands out.

This whiskey is 5 years old 100 proof

IN 1810 Jacob Yoder said if he could take a flatboat load of Old Overholt down river he could get twice the usual price for it

Trucks Blinds Cubs for Tigers, 4-1

By JOE CASHMAN

DETROIT, Oct. 4—The Detroit Tigers evened the World Series today by defeating the Chicago Cubs 4 to 1, with Hank Greenberg's fifth-inning home run the deciding factor in the second game of the annual baseball classic. Greenberg's four-base blow scored two mates ahead of him and provided the margin of victory for Virgil (Fire) Trucks, the Tiger speedball artist who had appeared in only one major league game this season.

The former sailor, who won his discharge just before the baseball year's end, had the situation under control throughout the contest.

Each of the teams made seven hits, and for the second game in a row there were no errors.

Hank Wyse, the Cub starter, was the losing hurler.

The Cubs took the lead in the fourth inning when Bill Nicholson singled to score Phil Cavarretta, who had doubled.

In the fifth, however, the Tigers came to life with the base hits that won the game.

After Richards had flied out and Trucks had popped out, Skeeter Webb singled. Eddie Mayo walked. Then Roger Cramer—who had three hits during the day—singled to score Webb with the tying run.

That brought Greenberg to the plate, and the big slugger drove his homer into the left field lower stands, sending Mayor and Cramer home ahead of him.

Stan Hack led the Cub attack, wih a double and two scratch singles.

Tigers Admit 2d Game "Do or Die" for Them

BRIGGS STADIUM, DETROIT, Oct. 4—The weather was 20 degrees warmer as another capacity crowd of 55,000 turned for the second game of the World's Series to see if the Detroit Tigrs, back of Virgil Trucks, could get warm enough to even the count with the Chicago Cubs, who started "Hnk" Wyse on the mound today.

Where everybody shivered in overcoats and furs at the opener, there were customers out in the sun kissed bleachers today sitting in shirtsleeves and the grandstand patrons used their steamer rugs as cushions.

In the past 24 hours the mercury had climbed from the middle forties to the middle sixties.

The wagering gentry bet Virgil couldn't do it. The Cubs were 7-5 favorites to make it two in a row.

Those odds were logical.

Hal "Lefty" Newhouser, 25-game victor, couldn't skin the Bruins in the inaugural. So there was no very good reason for believing that Trucks, the naval dischargee whose only big league pitching since 1943 was 5 1/3 innings against the Browns last Sunday, could turn the trick against Wyse, a right-handed curve-ball artist who hung up 22 triumphs in the National League campaign.

But the ex-gob had a chance to upset the dope. He's terrifically fast. Nobody the Cubs faced in their loop is as quick. He might blow the ball right past the Windy City athletes.

He promised to be very tough if he had his control. He figured, though, to have some difficulty locating the plate after his long absence from competition.

Despite the sloppy defensive exhibition given by the Bengals in the first game, Manager Steve O'Neill made no changes in the supporting cast.

Trying to score in the second World Series game, Cub third baseman Hack slides for home. Tiger catcher Richards has the ball waiting.

House Group OKs 5 Billion Slash in Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—The House ways and means committee approved a peacetime tax cut of $5,300,00 for individual and corporation incomes.

The measure sweeps 12,000,000 persons off the income tax rolls completely after this year, in an overall $2,600,000,000 easement of tax liabilities for individuals.

The committee voted only partial repeal of the 95 per cent excess profits tax on corporations for 1946, but cut the corporation combined normal and surtax rate from 40 per cent to 36 per cent. This will reduce corporate burdens by $1,900,000,000.

It voted a reduction in excise levies o nsuch things as fur coats, liquor, luggage, jewelry and cosmetics, effective next July 1. This would save consumers about $350,-000,000 in the last half of 1946.

For individuals, the committee amended a previous action to raise the tax cut next year from $2,-500,000,000 to $2,600,000,000. It stipulated that no incme taxpayer shall receive next year less than a 10 per cetn reduction in taxes.

DAR in New Bunker Hill Battle

The Daughters of the American Revolution, convening in Swampscott today, unanimously opposed a proposal for placing four bronze markers on historic Bunker Hill to honor Charlestown veterans of all the nation's wars, and drew the immediate fire of veteran leaders.

Holdup Fails

The notorious "mutt and Jeff" holdup team struck again today, but went away empty-handed in a holdup at the Haffenreffer & Co. brewery plant Columbus ave., Roxbury, after "Mutt" overlooked $1000 in pay envelopes in a safe he forced the office manager to open at gunpoint.
